ONE CENT

ONE HUNDRED PROMISE TO WORK ON THE ROADS

Labor Committee Gets in Large Number of Names

MANY TEAMS SECURED

Twenty-Five so Far Are Engaged--More Names the Committee's Desire

An even 100 men of Charleroi and vicinity have signified their intention of working on the roads May 26. They will use pick and shovels remove stones, fill mud holes and do whatever they can find to improve the roads around Charleroi. They want to get all the roads leading into Charleroi in good condition. John B. Schafer chairman of the labor committee this morning turned in 18 new names to be added to the list of names already published. The new names: George Spahr, G. T. Barger, O. P. Higgins, George Ryland, Harry Assenat, T. L. Daly, W. W. Jimeson, James Holzshu, Clyde Wickerham, Claude Jenkins, Wass Spridek, William Lowstuter, Marcin Deitz, R. J. Whitehead, George Newton, John W. Cornell, Walter Pyerly and R. W. Bayne.

About 20 or 25 teams have been secured. A number of automobiles have been secured to convey the men to and from the field of action. Workers will all be awakened at 6 o'clock and are to assemble at the borough building ready to start to work at 7 o'clock.

People who the committee have not been able to see are requested to see the committee at once and let them know what they will do, so that the full list of names may be given.

Great preparations are being made for Good Roads Day throughout the county. The workers here are being organized and a great deal of road will be placed in excellent condition.

OSCAR BRAWDY OPERATED ON IN WEST PENN HOSPITAL

Oscar Brawdy, formerly of Charleroi now of Monongahela who was injured here several years ago in the Charleroi brick works, was operated upon at the West Penn hospital. It was thought it would be necessary to amputate one of his legs, but the physicians removed a part of the bone and straightened his leg. It is believed that he will recover and be able to walk with only a slight limp.

CROWD INTO WINDOWS AT THE KIRK AND CLARK SALE

At the Kirk and Clark sale Monday morning, the crowd was so great and so anxious that it crowded into windows of the store to secure first choice of offerings on display there. The sale was well handled by William C. Clark, manager and his force of clerks. They attribute much of the success of the sale to advertising.

CRIMINAL COURT OPENS FOR THE SECOND WEEK

The second week of criminal court was convened Monday. Before Judge McIlvaine was called the case of the commonwealth against James Thompson of Lock No. 4. He is charged with making an assault upon his own wife. The defendant put up a defense and pleaded guilty and was fined $50.

Meeting For Good Roads

Charleroi Enthusiasts Asked to Gather Wednesday Evening at 8 O'Clock

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock a general meeting will be held of good roads' enthusiasts at the rooms of the Charleroi Business Men's Association. The object of the meeting will be to lay final plans for Good Roads' day observance next Tuesday. The meeting will be for everybody and those in charge of affairs request that all who have promised to work on the roads make an effort to attend.

GRIFFITH TRIAL IS STARTED

Monessen Physician Faces Accusation of Murder

SOME TESTIMONY HEARD

The trial of Dr. Martin E. Griffith of Monessen, charged with the murder of W. L. Robinson, a music teacher, was begun at Greensburg Monday. The greater part of the day was taken up with the selection of a jury.

The indications are that the commonwealth will ask for a verdict of second degree murder and that the defense will try to prove that William L. Robinson, the Monessen music teacher, died of Bright's disease.

Dr. W. J. Potts, a deputy coroner who assisted at the postmortem examination of Prof. Robinson's body testified that in his opinion death was due to injuries on the head and chest, inflicted by Dr. Griffith. Severe cross examination failed to shake his testimony.

The jurors selected are: Frank Hough, East Huntingdon township; foreman; Samuel Johnson, Ligonier township; Peter Schuler, Rostraver township; Elmer Weaver, Unity township; Bert Foss, South Huntingdon township; Harry Anderson, Arnold; Charles Oscher, Latrobe; M. F. Wooddell, Derry; John Smith, Youngwood; Charles O. Elrich, Vandergrift; W. C. Barnes, Latrobe; Zachariah Kistler, Greensburg.

Today the trial is being continued. The case will probably be long drawn out. Night sessions may be held.

Invitations for Banquet

The Monongahela High School Alumni association has issued invitations for their fourth annual banquet to be held in the First National Bank Hall Thursday evening May 28.

SMALL VOTE LOOKED FOR AT THE POLLS

Affairs Quiet at Various Precinct Election Places

--Believed Total Vote Will Fall Much Below 1,000

Primary election day in Charleroi is decidedly quiet and in spite of the supreme importance of the primary, indications are that there will be a small vote. In the first precinct at noon the total number of votes cast were close to 50. At 11:30, to be precise, only 39 ballots had been dropped into the ballot box.

Similar conditions prevail at all the Charleroi polls. At the rate of voting this morning the total vote in the first precinct will not run much over 150, if any. The usual good vote in this precinct is between 300 and 400. At the general election last November the vote tallied close to 1,000.

ALTERATIONS TO BE MADE IN ORDINANCE

Charleroi Council Asks Pittsburg Railways Company to Make Changes to Conform With Their Idea of Track Location

The borough council did not pass the ordinance giving the Pittsburg Railways company the right-of-way disposed of look with favor of the or for their tracks, on Sixth street and McKean avenue Monday night. The company presented a blue print of the proposed route that the tracks would take on Sixth street. There was objection to some of the tracks, and also to the location on Sixth street.

The ordinance was returned to the company with the request that certain desired changes be made in the ordinance. Members of council are disposed to look with favor of the or for their tracks, on Sixth street and McKean avenue Monday night. The company presented a blue print of the proposed route that the tracks would take on Sixth street. There was objection to some of the tracks, and also to the location on Sixth street.

LEAGUE GAMES IN CHARLEROI TO BEGIN AT 3

All Pawva league games in Charleroi are to begin at 3 o'clock. This was decided upon by President Wreath Monday after some investigation. It has been his intention to start the games at 4 o'clock, believing that this would catch a greater number of fans. His investigation proved that there were many who could attend better if the games began at 3 o'clock, hence the decision. Some twilight games will be played during the season.

MARKERS RECEIVED FOR GRAVES OF VETERANS

Twenty-five markers have been received by William S. Shepler, at Monongahela, for Spanish-American war veterans. The markers are of bronze and are of the shape of a maltese cross. They will be placed at once so as to have them all ready for Memorial Day.

School Board to Meet

The school board will hold a meeting tonight at which time the election of teachers may be taken up.

NEW UNIFORMS ARE HERE FOR BASEBALL TEAM

New suits for the Charleroi baseball team have arrived and are being displayed in the window of J. W. Berryman and Son's store on Fifth street. They are dark blue with a large white "C" on the front of the blouse. The cap is of the same shade with a small "C" on the front. The boys will make quite a showing when they get them on.

LEG BROKEN SATURDAY BY STEP OF STREET-CAR

Joseph Froncek, of McKean avenue, got his leg broken by a street car near the Charleroi-Monessen bridge Saturday night about 10:15 o'clock. The front of the car had passed him and he got in the way of the step. He was taken to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela in a special car immediately.

SPECIAL PICTURE FOR TODAY AT THE LYRIC

The special picture for today at the Lyric theatre will be moving pictures of Charleroi. They will be produced by special arrangement by a Pittsburg film manufacturing company for Manager John Pennman. The pictures are excellent. They will run for four days at the Lyric in addition to the regular program.

PARADE TO FEATURE LEAGUE OPENER HERE

Prohib Man To Lecture

Clinton N. Howard to Make Address at Union Meeting Here Tomorrow

A large audience is expected at the Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow night to hear Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y. in his Prohibition lecture. In his own city whenever he speaks--that is quite frequently--the largest churches or halls are filled to overflowing. He has visited Canonsburg four times in as many years and every time he has lectured to a crowded house. At the M. E. church on Wednesday night he will speak on "The Saloon Before the Bar." All the Protestant churches are giving over their prayer meetings because of the lecture.

Elaborate Preparation Being Made for Friday's Events

WILL VISIT MONESSEN

Fifty Autos Will be in Line to Cross Bridge--Burgesses to Help

Elaborate preparations are being made for the opening baseball game of the Pennsylvania-West Virginia league to be played in Charleroi on Friday afternoon of this week. The McKeesport will be the opposing team and a good game is anticipated but this will not be the only feature.

The leading feature to begin will be a parade. The parade will start from Charleroi at 1 o'clock and will traverse the principal streets of Charleroi and Monessen.

The Charleroi Concert band will travel in a large truck and will immediately follow the chief marshals of the parade. Following the band truck will be Burgess S. L. Woodward of Charleroi and Burgess A. G. Dunlap of Monessen in an auto. In the entire parade there will be about 50 machines. Following the machines carrying the burgesses of the two towns, will be borough officials. President H. A. Mackinnon of the league and President P. B. Wreath will travel in an auto together and Manager Charles M. O'Day and the manager of the McKeesport team will be seated together in a machine. The members of the two teams will be distributed throughout the procession to gether with prominent citizens of the town.

Plans are under way for the arrival of the procession at the ball park sometime after two o'clock. With the marshal leading the players will form in platoon file in center field and march toward the grandstand. A the grandstand Burgess S. L. Woodward will make a short speech. Others also will make short addresses. Promptly at 3 o'clock the bell will ring to start the game. The first ball will be thrown by Burgess S. L. Woodward of Charleroi and it will be caught by Burgess A. G. Dunlap of Monessen.

Before the game starts pictures of the grounds, the two teams and the fans will be taken by official photographers. President H. A. Mackinnon will be the honor guest of President P. B. Wreath.

THE STRANGLERS OF PARIS TO BE SEEN AT COYLE

"The Strangers of Paris" a most sensational and vivid narrative of the conditions of Paris nearly a decade ago will be shown at the Coyle theatre Thursday. This story was dramatized from the well known novel by David Belasco. From beginning to the end the picture holds interest and each reel is a complete feature.

A SACRED CALLING.
While all may not agree with Dr.
Gladden of Columbus, Ohio, that the newspaper profession is a sacred calling on a plane with the ministry, it must be agreed that the conducting of a modern journal has an influence upon humanity only a small degree less than that of the pulpit, says the Monessen Friday Evening Call. It would be a great blessing if all newspapers could feel stirring their impulses to help the world grow better the influence of divine power. To yield to such a spirit would be to place the business upon heights where the world would have an inspiring power as a visible agency for the up-lifting of humanity.

Of course, standing behind a counter in a store, following the plow in the furrow or any other commonplace duty can be glorified by the thought that each is a humble contribution to man's betterment. But the printed message has its real relation to the thoughts and affairs of the world.
The newspaper man, of all others, should have the feeling that he is set apart for a work that is responsive to God's will toward his people. Un-hampered by creeds and theological tenets, he has the freedom of the universe and the scope of human experience for his field.

To stand by the oppressed; to work with the unpopular when necessary; to link himself to the side of poverty, if the means of gaining wealth disagree with his conscience; to be thoroughly imbued with the idea of a personal mission; to hate sin and to place in place of argument; to reject the false colorings that words may convey; to be in fact, perfectly honest, true and counting no men or set of men deserving of special favors—by obedience to these rules the newspaper man can become, as he should be, the voice of divinity speaking to the world.

A TEST OF PRISONS.

One of the best suggestions recently put forward for bettering prison conditions comes from within the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, says an exchange. It is contributed by a convict, to "Good Words," the interesting prison journal.

It is that ex-prisoners organize alumni associations to take the lead in agitating for better prisons standards.

Surely, the man who has been in a "pen" and afterwards built up a success in life is in a position to speak, with peculiar authority on the subject of prison reform; and if his prison experience taught him, anything he ought not to be unwilling to to give others the benefit.

Unless a person is wholly useless and a blot on civilization, it is teaching its inmates ways to right living and strengthening them for it. The man who comes out of such a place ought, then, to be like one who emerges from a hospital, not to be shunned but to be congratulated; and he should be so treated while under his care that he will come out grateful, eager to repay the service.

In so far as prisons are falling short of such results they are failures.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Primary election day here, and we haven't our straw hat cleaned yet.

Some men are funny. As a favor we told a man, the other day that the telegraph messenger was looking for him and the man inquired when was the next car out of town.

Blessed are the pure in heart—for they shall receive two shovels on good roads day.

"Finding out the truth" is the title of a popular novel of the day. That is what the candidates are doing today.

With few exceptions, little is to be said about the good looks of any of the candidates.

Safety first does not always apply to voting.

Monessen people advise early rising, in order to see the sun. But if that is considered so very essential, Mones-senites can come to Charleroi most any time of the day and get a good glimpse of the sun.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The story of a boy who listened wide-eyed and open-mouthed to his Sunday school teacher's instructions to make at least one person happy during the week is told by Rev. W. G.
Carl, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The lad returned to Sunday school the next Sunday. In class the teacher began asking her pupils how they had made people happy. "Sunday" and came to the one lad that had been so greatly impressed.

"Johnny, did you make any person happy during the week?" she asked.
"Oh, yessum, I did," replied the lad.
"I went to visit my aunt and I made her happy when I left."

Color Don Eduardo Sarmiento, Minister from Chile to the United States, and one of the mediators of the Mexican trouble, has a quiet sense of humor, says Fred Kelley in Washington stories. He derives a great deal of amusement out of the ignorance of supposedly intelligent persons in the United States in regard to Chile and other Latin-American countries.

Not long ago a certain United States Senator met Senor Suarez at a social gathering and by way of small talk asked him:

"Are there many white people living down in Chile?"
"Do you ask," came back the Chilean, "because they are scarce in your state?"

"Why, my dear sir," explained the senator in astonishment. "I come from a northern state and our people are practically all white."

"It's the same way with us," smiled the minister; "our people are nearly all white."

"But," persisted the senator, "I thought that in South America there were a great many colored people."

"There are a good many in some parts, just as there are a good many in some parts of this country," replied Senor Suarez. "Yet you still regard North Americans as a white race do you not?"

The senator shifted the talk to the weather and walked away perplexedly scratching his thigh.

ted States. In a recent interview, "but many of those engaged in the medical profession are just as glad to praise its remarkable powers."

Recently Mrs. E. P. C. Averill, who is a trained nurse at the Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, Ill., stated: "I have taken Vin Hepatica but a short time for catarrh and it has benefited me a great deal."

Vin Hepatica is sold at Piper's

"Gentlemen: In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty short cough. I went to several doctors, who gave me a lot of medicine. Finally, I went to a specialist, who gave me a reciprocity that made me sick of all kinds of food, consequently I failed in health. I then went to the Catskills, and seemed to get better, but the cough still kept up.
I stayed there for one year, and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man. About the time of my return, my brother recommended Eckman's Al-

COLLEGE PLAYERS SIGNED

Two Men With Records to Join Charleroi Magics June 1

OUTFIELDER COMING

Two college men who have records in league work and an outfielder who is a hard hitter and who has had experience have been signed for the Charleroi baseball team. The college lads are Billy Roberts, a pitcher and H. A. Mayer an infielder, both of whom are attending Juniata college at the present time. The outfielder is Earl McGonigal, of Lilly, Pa.

The college men will report June 1. They travel together, and have played together. Both were released from Connie Mack's Athletics to Canton, Ohio, in the Central league, where they played a season. Part of last season they were with Atlantic City Collegians. Roberts has this spring to his list of victories State college and others of equal note.

BASEBALL SPARKS

Hogg's misfortune in facing Fayette City was in the fact that he was known.

Gene Elliott is a third-baseman who is the property of the New York Highlanders. The rest of the Fayette City club is composed of players of more or less note and practically all have seen minor league experience.

'Phil' Schafer—his right name is Frank—fell on the ball for keeps when he picked out his three bagger. Damon is scheduled to do mound duty this afternoon.

Charleroi got just half the hits Fayette City captured and more than half the scores.

Manager O'Day works well at second and looks sure. He had three chances Monday and took them all easily. In addition to everything else, second base is a good place for the director of ceremonies to be located.

Heine Detters, who was known in P. O. M. times as a member of the Zanesville club has been released at Uniontown, simply because he got in wrong with the umpire, who was a home man.

Bill Kelleway handles himself like a real pitcher in the box and the first thing we all know he will have a record.

FAYETTE CITIANS WINNERS

Fast Independent Team Outhits Charleroi and Gets Game

HOGG TOO WELL KNOWN

Facing terrific hitting on the part of the Fayette Citians, the Charleroi Pawva league team was defeated at Fayette City Monday by the score of 11 to 6. It was hard hitting entirely that did the damage. Not an error was made by either side. The Elliotts and O'Briens and Wilsons and so forth performed the trick.

Manager O'Day presented a slightly different lineup from anything he had yet attempted. He was on second base and Shadle was over on third base. But that made no difference. Hogg was sent in to pitch, but the Fayette City lads were evidently acquainted with the Pricedale twirler's curves, so they jumped on to his delivery for keeps. In the seventh inning Kelleway, of Daisytown, was sent in to see what he could do with the up-river binglers. He was fairly successful, but that didn't save the game. The score:

CLAYBAUGH & MILLIKEN

GREAT MEN MERELY HUMAN

We Are All Too Apt to Forget Those Traits Which Link Them With Their Fellows.

In spite of the saying that no man is a hero to his own valet, Napoleon's man servant has given us a reverential account of his master from his own point of view, and now, simultaneously, there appear a life of King Edward by his chauffeur and a book about Cecil Rhodes by one of his servant secretaries. King Edward was not a history maker in the accepted sense of the words, but a peace-maker, and the story of his life is anecdotal rather than epic. That even kings are not exempt from engine trouble and tire trouble and the rest of the ills that flesh is heir to is seen in his chauffeur's description.
Here we have Cecil Rhodes as he was in life—in fatigue uniform, as it were. When they told him that the Dutch in Africa were salt of the earth, he remarked: "I'd like to know where I come in!" He was not unmindful of his own merits. "Creative genius, that's what I've got," he would say. "It's a great thing to have."

But he was not of the number of those who do not recognize an infinitely higher power than their own.
"Let a man be a Mohammedan, let him be a Christian, or what you will; let him call himself what he likes, but if he does not believe in a Supreme Being he is no man—he is no better than a dog."

All too soon the impersonal chronicle of the era in which a strong mar-dell, the era profoundly affected by his indomitable will and resolute purpose, forgets those natural traits which link him with his fellows. We behold him larger than life and his "vast shadow glory crowned." It is of peculiar interest to ordinary mortals when he is restored to a truer perspective in relation to the universe, so that he is seen no longer as a demigod, but as a man.

FIRST DAWN OF CIVILIZATION

Workers of the "Stone Age" Brought Their Products to a High Degree of Perfection.

The earliest period of human industry is called the "Stone Age," because in digging about among the remains of the past archeologists find relics made of stone always lower down than relics made of metal.

The ancient savages were marvelous workers in stone. They knew in each region what stone was best for their purpose. They found out where the material abounded under the best conditions to be worked. They planned apparatus for mining and quarrying it. They transported the material for long distances, half-shipped to reduce the weight, and made treaties with hostile tribes to secure the right to visit the coveted spot.

The prehistoric man could tell just how each kind of stone ought to be worked and how it would do its work after it was shaped. To such a state of perfection did they arrive that our most skillful flint workers, aided by the finest tools of today, are not able to reproduce some of the perfect specimens to be found in our museums.

"My Son, My Son!"

A gentleman from abroad, staying in one of the Manchester hotels heard imperious knocking at the door of his room early in the morning after his arrival. He opened, and an elderly gentleman in a state of warm emotion rushed in and embraced him tenderly, with affectionate cries of "My son, my son!"

It was heartily touching, but the supposed son was in honesty compelled to deny the relationship.

The senior argued the point—"You've been eight years in India, and have just come back. You're So-and-So."

The names—Christian and surname —were quite correct, the surname being by no means a common one, but the younger man had not been in India, nor had he a father in England.

The real son was in the hotel, however, and had arrived the night before, like his namesake. Even the registration clerks had not imagined it necessary to anticipate a coincidence when they directed the father to the visitor's room.

Value of Talk.

Talk has the reputation of being the cheapest thing there is. As supply and demand have something if not all to do with values, doubtless the supply of talk is what gives it a bargain counter value.

Things that are cheap lack enduring quality.
If talk were confined to the things there more than to the thing said, it would have a greater value.

Some one asked Edison if he experienced much inconvenience on account of his deafness. He replied that he thanked God for it every day, since it protected him from the distracting effect of other people's talk. He could thus live his own life, think his own thoughts, do his own work in his world of silence.

Finger Prints of Babies.

At Spokane, the finger prints of all newly-born children are taken upon the certificate of birth. By this means, the identity of a citizen can be traced from the cradle to the grave. If that method were resorted to at founding asylums, when unfortunate mothers leave their babies, there would always remain a means of identification. A recent case has called attention to this class of human tricks.

DROVE THE CAT TO SUICIDE

Representative Probably Did a Little Thinking After He Had Heard Policeman's Story.

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray, representative from Oklahoma, made a tour of Washington a short time ago with a party of friends. In due time they reached the Washington monument, and the Oklahoma statesman told at length of the beauties of the shaft.

At the close of his peroration, Alfalfa Bill mopped his brow and turned genially to a minion of the law nearby.
"How about it," asked he; "isn't that some little talk on this ancient pile of masonry?"

"You forgot about the cat," replied that official, imperturbably.

"What cat?"

"The bridled cat of 1896."

"Well, what about him?" queried Representative Murray.

"Oh, nothing," replied the guard, evasively.

"See here," said Mr. Murray, sternly, "I demand to know about this cat."
"It ain't much of a story," replied the guard. "Your talking there reminded me of it. I see this here cat lived in the monument. Well, sir, me and another chap that used to be here noticed that cat zezing queerly every time a party came along and was told about the beauties of 'this vast pile of masonry,' as you was saying."

"Then one day along came a gentleman with some friends and talked for three-quarters of an hour along this line, when blam'd if that there cat didn't run all the way up 500 odd feet of steps and commit suicide by jumping off the top of the monument!"— Washington Post.

SURELY COULD ASK NO MORE

Clever Frenchman Had Done What He Promised, According to Tertimony of His Fair Clients.

A witty Frenchman, whose rogueries gave him an unsavory notoriety throughout the town in which he lived, at one time claimed to have discovered a specific for the rejuvenescence of women, and, by means of sensational advertising, he succeeded in gathering a clientele of 40 or 50 old dames, who were assembled, on a certain day, in a room, tricked out with astrological symbols, crucibles, alembics, and all the paraphernalia of charlatanism.

The conjurer presented himself before the ladies, and addressed them in flamboyant language, ending as follows:

"And now, señoras of my soul, it is needful that the mystic ceremonies before us be opened by the eldest one among you."

Then, addressing her whose appearance seemed to indicate priority, he asked her age. "Thirty-seven years, senor," simpered the beidame, who was, at least, in the seventh decade.
"And you, senora?" "Thirty-six." And so on, until he had them down to a declared age of twenty years, with a maximum of thirty-seven.

"Well, ladies all, you perceive that, without further proceedings the miracle is accomplished," said Otavito.
"For the least gallant of men could not call her aught but young whose years are but thirty-seven—and you see for yourselves that is the age of the oldest among you!"

Iceland's Own Flag.

A much-valued concession to Icelandic national pride has been made by King Christian of Denmark. For some years the islanders have been agitating to be allowed the use of their own flag—which is blue and white, as distinguished from the Danish colors, red and white, and they have at last gained their wish. Mr.
Hannes Hafstein, the minister for Iceland, visits Denmark several times yearly, in order to get the signature of the king to the laws passed by the althing. On the last occasion he carried with him a petition for the use of the flag of Iceland, and this was granted by royal resolution, which permits the blue and white flag to be hoisted together with the Danish flag on public buildings on official occasions. It also allows the use of the special flag on the territorial waters of Iceland.

Friendly Warning.

The young Englishwoman had become very fond of American seaside hotels, with their rockers and cool piazzas, but in one respect she was critical. The story is told in the Wide World Magazine.

"If only they would clean our boots once in awhile," she cried, "instead of sending us out to have a 'ten-cent shine' at a 'shoe parlor!' I have left my shoes outside my door every night for a week, and they have not been touched."

Her new acquaintance looked at her a few moments pityingly, and cleared his throat. "I am afraid," he said, "you can hardly count on finding such honesty everywhere."

She Was No Easy Mark.

Martha is seven, and has shown more than ordinary childish aversion to learning lessons, being washed and having curls made smooth and shiny, and less than the average delight in fairy-tales.

One day upon her return from Sunday school she was questioned as to what she had learned from her nice teacher this time. She cried out with flashing eyes and an indignant toss of her pretty head, "Why, mamma; my teacher told me today that story about the Children of Israel walking across the Red sea and not getting their selves wet one single bit—and she expected me to believe it!"
